

Editorial

We welcome the readers to read the second issue of International Journal of Information Studies. This issue has the following research.

In the first paper on “E-journal Consortia for Academic Libraries”, the authors Sachin and Prasanna Kumar have discussed the ‘Consortia’ which work to share the resources through collaboration among the universities. This paper focused on the emergence consortia for academic libraries, consortia model, issues, benefits and constraints related to academic library is discussed.

In the paper on “Analysis of Internet Inclusion among the Populous Countries” the authors Sankara Moorthy, Krishnaraj, Celina and Arunkumar have studied the Internet inclusion at the global level. They have provided the Internet inclusion data of many countries and discussed the implications.

In the last paper on “Knowledge Management Lifecycle Model in Islamic Banks”, the authors Nurdin Nurdin and Khaeruddin Yusuf how conventional banks have successfully implemented knowledge management strategy using various models to support their business performance. Based on the results they have revised the knowledge management lifecycle model. The published papers have given a new outlook.

Editors